Other information

Rabbiya has been a parent of the Charville School Community since 2006. 3 of her sons have since moved on to University and secondary schools and she currently still has a daughter in year 4. Rabbiya decided to join the Governing Board as she hopes to be an asset to the school, providing a strong commitment to the role and to improve outcomes for the children. The school has provided a strong educational foundation for her children, allowing them to reach their full potential, hence she felt that she would like to give something back to the Charville community.

Rabbiya works at Heathrow airport as a 'Safeguarding and Modern Slavery Officer' and she has a strong passion for safeguarding children as this is also her speciality at work.

In her spare time Rabbiya enjoys time with her family, going to theme parks, museums, local walks, swimming and socialising with friends.
