Other information

Bev has a long and continuing relationship with Charville with both her grown up children having attended. Her daughter is a teacher at the school, which was the catalyst for Bev's desire to have a deeper understanding of the education sector. After a long career in retail banking, Bev is currently enjoying retirement. She spends her spare time baking in her kitchen; perfecting her banana loaf (much to her husband's delight) and spending time with her grandchildren. Her other love is her pet toy poodle Hardy. Her hope is that Hardy will be able to become a Therapy dog, for the elderly, so that she can share the joy that he brings to her family with others.
